

HIGH HALDEN PARISH COUNCIL

VILLAGE CONFINES PUBLIC CONSULTATION

What is it about?

Over the past few months a committee of villagers, including parish councillors, has been attempting to define the confines of the village of High Halden.

It is for the village to determine the confines which, when adopted by Ashford Borough Council, will be used as a material consideration when making decisions about planning applications. An area beyond the confines is considered as countryside and an application for housing development is unlikely to be supported. Development within the confines would, subject to certain criteria, be likely to receive support.

Where is it?

High Halden War Memorial Hall

Maps of the village will be on display showing the proposed confines of the village. There will be an opportunity to ask questions and make comments on the proposals.
